Such conditions have not existed for some time before and may never again. Just think of it, it's near the middle of November, when you usually have supplied yourself with winter apparel—the weather has been so warm this season that you probably haven't thought of them. Manufacturers have become terrified at the stagnation of trade, and in their eagerness to unload have sacrificed their stocks regardless of value. Meyer's has taken advantage of this state of affairs, and has pitched in and bought up stocks right and left in the interest of its customers. Knowing that with the advent of cold weather prices will advance to double and more, we have been working like beavers all week to get our immense purchases into shape, and when The Meyer's Store opens to-morrow
